Social and Personal

TWO very pretty affairs interested society yesterday. The Misses Boykin entertained at a luncheon in honor of two debutantes of the winter. Miss Margaret Freeman and Miss Elizabeth Bentley. The Boykin home was decorated with lots of lovely pink flowers and palms, and the luncheon table was set with a centerpiece of pink roses and lilies of the valley, and the candles were shaded in pink. Mrs. Boykin received with her daughters. She wore a handsome black silk gown with trimmings of duchesse lace, and Miss Annie Boykin wore pale yellow messaline draped with chiffon of the same shade. Miss Nellie Boykin wore a lavender gown embroidered in silver and held a bouquet of lilies of the valley. Miss Freeman wore a tan cloth gown trimmed with real lace, with a corsage bouquet of lilies of the valley and gardenias, and Miss Bentley wore a gown of blue cloth and chiffon with a similar bouquet. Miss Doris Jones was also in the receiving line. She wore a blue cloth gown and lilies of the valley.

be the annual tea of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, which will be given the latter part of January in the John Marshall house. The annual tea of the association is always a very interesting and important event, and all members of the society will be invited. The house will be temporarily furnished, and the function will be a very handsome affair.

Important Meeting. Mrs. Penbert's Circle of King's Daughters will meet this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. David Lumsden, 1811 Park Avenue. All members of the organization are asked to be present at this meeting.

Approaching Wedding. Mrs. C. C. Woodson has sent out invitations for the marriage of her daughter, Lizzie Wilson, to Oliver Megs Hepler, the ceremony to take place Tuesday, December 19, at half-after 5 o'clock at 601 North Twenty-fourth Street.

Confederate Daughters Meet. The statement was made at yesterday's meeting of Richmond Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, that the Virginia Division of the Daughters will make application before the next Legislature for an appropriation of $5,000 to add to the relief fund. This fund was established by the division for the immediate aid of needy and destitute Confederate women. It does not support any special home, but gives immediate aid to destitute women wherever they may be. There are, it is stated, many more women now needing help than can possibly be accommodated in homes.

The chapter met at 11 o'clock in Lee Camp Hall, with Mrs. N. V. Randolph presiding. Mrs. Walter Christian, treasurer of the way and means committee of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, reported all bills settled in November, reported all bills settled in November, reported all bills settled in November.

Mrs. Fitzpatrick is leaving town tomorrow for her home in New York. In honor of visitors. Mrs. Austin Brockenbrough, of 7 South Third Street, will entertain at cards on Friday evening in honor of Miss Ella Tallaferra, of Baltimore, who is the guest of Miss Katherine Hagan, and Miss Flora Waller of Norfolk, who is visiting Mrs. Baskerville Bridgforth. Miss Tallaferra will arrive in Richmond to-day, and a number of affairs will be given in her honor. Miss Ridsley, of Atlanta, who is also visiting Miss Hagan, has been much entertained since her arrival here.

Mrs. Aubrey Young entertained yesterday for Miss Hagan, Miss Ridsley and Miss Werthamer, of Warrenton who is a guest of Miss Fanny Scott. In honor of Miss Flora Waller, Miss Frances Bemis, one of the winter debutantes, was hostess of an informal tea. The affair was given at the Bemis home, 117 East Franklin Street.

Interesting Wedding. Society in Richmond is much interested in the wedding of Miss Katherine McCook and Hugh Smith Knox, which took place yesterday at 10 o'clock. Miss McCook has visited Miss Ella Buck in Richmond on several occasions, and Miss Buck has gone to New York to be present at the ceremony there this afternoon.

There will be no ante-nuptial festivities for Miss Katherine McCook and Hugh Smith Knox, who are to be married this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, General and Mrs. Anderson G. McCook, 33 West Fifty-fourth Street. Rev. John Henry Jewett, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, will perform the ceremony at 1 o'clock, and the bride will be given in marriage by her father. She will wear a white satin gown embroidered with pearls and a point lace veil caught with a wreath of orange blossoms, and she will carry a bouquet of white orchids with lilies of the valley. There will be no bridesmaids or ushers. Read Knox will be his brother's best man, and there will be music. At 3:30 o'clock a reception will be held. Mr. Knox is the second son of Philip C. Knox, Secretary of State, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Augustus Knox, who is a cousin of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Julius J. Morgan and Miss Martha McCook will be among the relatives who will witness the ceremony.

For Miss Townsend. Society in Richmond is much interested in the marriage of Miss Addie Sue Payne, daughter of the late Judge William Henry Payne, and Robert William Storrs, Jr., formerly of this city. The ceremony will take place very quietly at the home of the bride's mother, in Chattanooga, this morning at half-after 10 o'clock. Dr. J. W. Bachman, a lifelong friend of the family, officiating. The parlor, where the ceremony will take place, will be arranged with palms and white roses, with an altar of white flowers between the windows. In the library and dining-room a color scheme of pink will be carried out in pink roses and carnations, and ivy will drape the chandeliers and staircase down which the bride will come. Mrs. Caroline Arnold will play the "Norwegian Bridal March" during the assembling of the guests, and the bride will enter into the wedding march from "Lohengrin."

The bride will wear a tailored suit of dark blue cloth, with a big picture hat, and she will carry a bouquet of white roses. Mary Boyd Payne, little sister of the bride, will be flower girl, and Page Elizabeth Payne, a niece of the bride, will be ring bearer, carrying the ring on a white satin pillow. Both will wear simple little frocks of white batiste, with pink sashes, and the flower girl will carry a basket filled with pink and white blossoms.

An informal reception will follow the ceremony, after which Mr. Storrs and his bride will leave for Nashville, Tenn., where they will make their home. Annual Tea.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

By ROY K. MOULTON.

The Point of View. O' benzine car, to thee we sing! Thou art indeed a glorious thing! A faithful friend in time of need! On hot nights with try ripping speed! When not a breath of wind is blowing, is stirring midst the wayside trees!

When luckless folks are scorching hot! And cursing thy confounded lot! O' benzine car, to thee we sing! With motors humming and song! Refreshing breezes whistling by! We couldn't be warm should we try! Pull on the last degree of power! And push her ninety miles an hour! O' benzine car, to thee we sing! Thou art indeed a glorious thing! To those who own thee.

O' benzine car, at thee we swear. Thou art a fiend beyond compare! A snorting monster set on wheels! To break the peace with honks and squeals! To dodge about with furious pace! Without the sense to keep thy place! A high-toned thing that hogs the road! With an aristocratic load! A buzzing, thumping box of noise! With neither dignity or poise! Whose piercing searchlights make us blind! No name that we can call to mind! Expresses our opinion quite! When they loom up out of the night! O' benzine car, at thee we swear! Thou art a fiend beyond compare! To those that dodge thee.

What Drives Clerks Crazy. "I want to buy a shirt for my husband. I don't know what size the neck-band is, but he wears a six-and-one-eighth hat." "My wife wants me to get her some ribbon to trim a dress. What shade do you think she would like?" "My wife has just got back from the East, and doesn't like the overcoat I bought her two months ago. Will you take it back?" "Huh! They ain't wearing them hats in New York now. You don't see 'em in any of Bud Fisher's cartoons." "What kind of a necktie would my husband like for his birthday?" "Are those $1.29 cut links solid gold? If not, I don't want them."

According to Uncle Abner. Uncle Ezra Hicks says the putter-inest job he knows of is bringing up a turkey. When a young turkey gets its feet wet it dies, and a young turkey ain't happy unless it is paddlin' in a mud puddle. There is almost as much human nature in turkeys as there is in some folks.

Home-made Christmas presents are all right so long as the other fellow gets 'em. There ain't much use in tryin' to make a silk purse out'n a pig's ear, but there is just as much use in that as there is in tryin' to make a great statesman out'n a peanut politician.

One of the leading humorists of this country is the fellow who invented garlic salad. There ain't a music teacher in the world who doesn't really think that any other music teacher could improve considerably by taking a few lessons from her.

Yes, indeed, there is considerable difference between a fool and a dumb fool. The latter is a man who voluntarily enters into an argument with a woman.

I ain't much in favor of this movement for women's suffrage. I think the women have suffered enough already. It is all right for a girl to marry a count if he has got anything to count, but I have never heard of one that had.

If it wasn't for the collar buttons and dresses that hook up the back, there would be less very little profanity heard in this world outside of the livery stables.

A fellow that votes a party ticket all his life whether his party is right or wrong, may be loyal, but he's also a darn fool.

I never heard of a fellow that wore a one-eyed monocle in his eye sufferin' from "conclusion" of the brain. It would be impossible.

A minister's life is not a path of roses when you consider all the poor Sunday dinners he is obliged to participate in during the course of a year.

There is quite a lot of difference between a fool and a dumb fool. The latter will stay and raise the edge on a pair of treys.

Every fellow that learns how to run a vacuum cleaner or an electric toaster.

GOVERNOR GETS HIS RESIGNATION

Judge George W. Ward's Services Will Terminate December 31.

HIS SUCCESSOR NOT KNOWN

No Intimation Comes From Kitchen as to Who Will Be Appointed.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Raleigh, N. C., December 13.—The resignation of Hon. George W. Ward as Superior Court judge for the First Judicial District reached Governor Kitchen this morning. His service to terminate December 31. There is no intimation as to who will be appointed by the Governor to succeed him or when the appointment will be made. It is possible that the appointment may be delayed until just before the resignation takes effect. Urged for the appointment are Colonel W. C. Rodman, of Washington, and Stephen Bragaw, of Washington. Judge Ward has been on the bench for seven years, and writes the Governor that his resignation is actuated more from a desire to resume his practice of law than on account of poor health. For two months past he has been able to handle fully his duties on the bench, and prospects, he writes, are for his full restoration to health.

Site Selected.

The State Board of Public Buildings and Grounds has selected the site for the $12,000 monument Hon. Ashley Horne, of Clayton, will erect to the memory of the North Carolina women of the Confederacy. The location is in the center of the square, halfway between the Fayetteville entrance and the Morgan and Salisbury Street corner. The question of the title to about 15,000 acres of land in several sections of Western Carolina is involved in the proposed monument. The title is held by the United States Government, and the question is whether the title should be conveyed to the State or to the county of Clay and Richland, or to the Lumber Company and Macon county against the same defendants. It is the old Cherokee reservation that is involved in the controversy. A multiplicity of land grants involving millions of acres lands following their opening to settlements early in the nineteenth century. The main question at issue is whether it is necessary for the signature of the Secretary of State at the time the grant was made to appear on the grants giving title. In some of the grants involved the grant is signed by the chief clerk for the Secretary of State and in others there is only the indorsement of the document on the back by the Secretary of State.

Sharters Granted.

The Goldsboro Seven Sings and Swansboro Railroad Company, with Goldsboro as the principal office, was chartered to-day by the State with $1,500,000 capital, for the construction of a railroad from Goldsboro through sections of Wayne, Lenoir, Jones and Onslow counties to Swansboro in Onslow county. The incorporators are Frank Thompson, Jacksonville; T. A. Pritchard, Swansboro; J. D. Langston, W. A. Robertson, M. H. Allen and R. P. Young, of Goldsboro.

are also charters for the Healing Springs Company, Lexington, capital $15,000, by W. A. Burgett, of Lexington, W. H. Phillips and others for the development of the Healing Springs property near Lexington; and the Holland Realty and Insurance Company, Holland, capital $100,000, by J. W. Holland, P. W. Garland and others. Real estate development and operation of cotton milling being included in the powers of the corporation.

Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham is sticking to his original position that no mistake will be made in holding cotton for higher prices—12 to 15 cents—rather than in calling attention to the last government report which shows that the whole yield of cotton, amounting to 12,814,832 pounds to the last ginning period, is far behind the previous high mark in past years. This was December, 1908, when 13,056,550 pounds had been ginned. He is advising the planters in North Carolina to hold for higher prices in spite of the record-breaking yield thus far shown for this season in North Carolina.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Amherst, Va., December 13.—In the Circuit Court of Amherst county, W. S. Gill, G. W. B. Cash and other citizens living along the road from Sandhills to Lowlands, in this county, through their attorneys, Messrs. Campbell & Campbell, have filed a bill asking Judge Gordon to enjoin the Board of Supervisors of Amherst county from building the macadam road from Sandhills, four miles distant from Amherst, to Mt. Moriah Church, over the adopted route.

SEEK INJUNCTION AGAINST COMPLETION OF HIGHWAY

This is the road about which there was so much contention in the summer and fall of this year. The route finally adopted is what is known as the Sandhills route. The State Highway Commission favored this location for the reason that it was a better grade and would accommodate more people. The opponents are basing their contention upon the statement that the road is not being built as was proposed before the bond issue was carried. They favor following the present road from Monitor to Mt. Moriah Church.

FARMERS' UNION IN CONVENTION

Five Hundred Delegates Present to Discuss Farm Problems.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Wilson, N. C., December 13.—The trains last evening and this morning brought 500 or more delegates to the Farmers' Union Convention. The delegates were met at the trains by a reception committee for the Chamber of Commerce. The opening session of the convention was held in the courthouse this morning at 9 o'clock. It was called to order by President H. G. Q. Alexander, of Matthews, N. C., secretary and treasurer. Other State officers present were A. M. Tompkins, vice-president, Cary, N. C.; Secretary and Treasurer, E. C. Farris, Charlotte; State Organizer, J. S. Green, Nashville; Business Agent, J. R. Rivers, Sanford. The roll was called, committees were appointed and the convention was organized. National President C. S. Barrett was escorted to the rostrum. There were several addresses while awaiting for the committee to report. President Barrett's address on the cotton holding movement was interesting. He stated in substance that the plan submitted by the farmers was not in line with the proposition he laid before them, and he spoke of the movement too much and that the restriction was harder than the farmers would be willing to submit to. He urged the farmers to reduce their acreage, raise their living, and thus get in position to hold their cotton on the farms.

Here's a "Cure" For Dull, Brittle Hair

"Careless or improper treatment of the scalp so often results in dull, brittle, 'stringy' hair," says Mrs. Mac Martyn, in the San Francisco Record. "This is easy to correct," she continues, "to have beautiful hair, and an abundance of it." "A teaspoonful of canthox dissolved in a cup hot water is sufficient mixture for a thorough cleansing of scalp and hair, and shampooing with this is a positive delight. The canthox mixture soothes, invigorates and stimulates, and quickly brings about a healthy condition, insuring a plentiful growth of silky hair, that doing it up is a pleasure you will thoroughly enjoy."
